

Gospel Community Questions:

1. After listening to Acts 3:1-10, share what one thought stands out as the most important, encouraging, challenging, puzzling or convicting for you. Why?
2. What is Jesus' Mission? How are we as his followers involved in his mission?
3. We have a preference for healing when we pray, but when Jesus does not heal how is he still on mission?
4. How is it still good news when a Christian dies?
5. Repentance is turning from you being the God of your life to Jesus being the God of your life. Why is there a need for on going repentance in a Christian's life?

~ Quotes ~

When we read miracle stories in the Bible it often raises the question of why those same kinds of miracles are not abundant among believers today. But we forget that these miracles weren't abundant in Bible days either – the Bible just focuses on the stories of specific people who possess amazing gifts.

~ Robert Bilmont

When reading Acts we must remember the difference between description and prescription. The Bible's description of an event does not imply that this event or action can, should, or will be repeated.

~ John MacArthur

Peter heals "in the name of Jesus". This is not the incantation of a magician, as though healing powers were released by the mere mention of a sacred "name", but a believer's confession of the continuing authority of the living Jesus.

~ Robert W. Wall

In the story of miraculous healing in Acts 3 we learn the means by which heaven touches earth – not by magic but by a Christocentric faith.

~ William J. Larkin

Next Sunday, March 20: Acts 3:11-26
