A- Read the following text then do the tasks below :

Surgical nurses work in hospitals to assist the surgeons. Their job is to make sure that the patient is in a stable condition and healthy enough to have the operation and they explain to him what is going to happen during it.

During the surgery, surgical nurses help the surgeon by passing him the tools needed for the operation. They also keep a constant check on the patient's heart rate and breathing. When the surgery is over they count the surgical tools so that none go missing during the operation. Their role doesn't end after the operation. They have to change the patients' bandages and make sure that they give the right painkillers.
